An Educational Program For

Our four years at Bridgewater have ended. Time has sped by and yet each of us is aware of the changes that have occurred while we have been here. As freshmen, we were all deficient in some area—intellectual, emotional, social, physical, or spiritual. Perhaps some of us were even lacking in all of the areas. But this period has given us an opportunity to become well-integrated personalities; able to meet the demands placed on individuals entering the field of education.

There is no profession which requires finely tuned men and women more than does that of teaching.

At Bridgewater we have been exposed to the means needed to attain this end. For the most part this amalgamation of essential qualities has developed the graduating seniors into men and women capable of accomplishing the goals they have set for themselves.

DEDICATION

CLEMENT C. MAXWELL

"The light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light." It is to Dr. Clement C. Maxwell, who chose to devote his life to a single purpose, the education of the minds of many, that the Class of 1962 dedicates this, our Alpha. The gratitude of those he has so skillfully guided and taught is only a part of his reward. May the light he has shed cast its rays on generations of future teachers that they may partake of its devout spirit.

STATE COLLEGE AT BRIDGEWATER

January 24, 1962

Dear Members of the Class of 1962:

Before the pages of this edition of the Alpha unfold the story of the class of 1962, your life as a group will have tapered off to a graceful ending, an ending that will be but a beginning, the beginning of the discoveries, the responsibilities, the duties that mark the social and moral maturing of you young men and young women.

Alpha in the years that lie before you will be a prodigal fund of memories gay and grave, but all nostalgic, filled with yearning for days that can never be lived again, years that are now merely "the stuff that dreams are made on".

This lesson unlearned, you have learned nothing! Man is made up of body and soul and is preparing for his immortal tomorrow. If we, you and I, fail so to consider our students, then we teach them not as men but as mere animals. The world wants culture so badly, not merely the decorations of culture, but its honest essence. Despite this, too frequently our world offers only "bread and the circus". Though deep in our hearts we know that man does not live by bread alone, we too often take our spiritual nourishment for granted. What does he know of teaching who only teaching knows?

Van Dyke tells us that Education should send forth men who can see clearly, image vividly, think steadily and will nobly. This is clearly the measure of the good teacher. If you live and work in harmony with this law there will be no time-serving in your profession; little or no patience with deliberate mediocrity, and a total disregard for "that empty, ugly thing called popularity".

May your years in your profession be filled with all things which are good, may wisdom be ever your desideratum, for

"Wisdom is bright and unfading,
And she is easily seen by those who love her,
And found by those who search for her
- - - -
For she goes about in search of those
Who are worthy of her,
And she graciously appears to them in their paths
And meets them in every thought."

What is the worth of any school without an intelligent and devoted faculty?

We at Bridgewater have been most fortunate. The faculty has striven to arouse intellectual curiosity and a sense of individualism in their students. The integrity, interest, and industry these men and women consistently display accounts for the successful history, the fruitful present, and the promising future of Bridgewater State College.

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Clement C. Maxwell

President Clement C. Maxwell, Dr. Ellen M. Shea, Daniel Noonan, and Charles McMullen are those in command at Bridgewater. President Maxwell and these three work together to help the students know their responsibilities and are often available to give advice to any student who is in earnest need of help.

President Maxwell is faced with the day-to-day puzzles of any modern administrator. Finances, faculty members, students, and volumes of paper work are only general problems with which this man has to cope. These responsibilities are eased with the help he receives from his three co-workers.

Dr. Shea is our Dean of Women and all recognize the conscientiousness and love that this woman possesses for Bridgewater and its undergraduates.

Mr. Noonon, loquacious and efficient, works with the male members of the student body as Bridgewater's Dean of Men.

Dean McMullen, always helpful and friendly, makes every student feel a little special when he speaks to them. He is the Dean of Studies and is available for many other problems which confront a large number of students.

The three deans also work in different departments with some of the senior class divisions.

Dr. Shea and Dean McMullen are both in the Education Department, while Mr. Noonon is a member of the Economics Department.

The class of 1962 has fulfilled several of its goals during the course of the present college year. The chief objective of the class financially and socially was to have the first free Senior Prom at Bridgewater. This hope became a reality due to the cooperation and drive of the class.

The presentation of a class gift that will be of benefit to the entire school was one of the other goals that was attained. The class also sponsored a high level program of big-name entertainment late in the Spring. This was a continuation of a program begun by the preceding Senior Class.

A new efficient method of holding class meetings was instituted with much success through the cooperation of the class members, the class officers, and the advisers.

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE

There is a time in man's education when he arrives at the conviction that envy is ignorance; that imitation is suicide; that he must take himself for better or worse as his portion; that though the wide universe is full of good, no kernel of nourishing corn can come to him but through his toil bestowed on that plot of ground which is given to him to till. The power which resides in him is new in nature and none but he knows what that is which he can do, nor does he know until he has tried. Not for nothing one face, one character, one fact, makes much impression on him, and another none. This sculpture in the memory is not without pre-established harmony. The eye was placed where one ray should fall, that it might testify of that particular ray. We but half express ourselves, and are ashamed of that divine idea which each of us represents. It may be safely trusted as proportionate and of good issues, so it be faithfully imparted, but God will not have his work made manifest by cowards. A man is relieved and gay when he has put his heart into his work and done his best; but what he has said or done otherwise shall give him no peace. It is a deliverance which does not deliver. In the attempt his genius deserts him; no muse befriends; no invention, no hope.

Trust thyself; every heart vibrates to that iron string. Accept the place the divine providence has found for you, the society of your contemporaries, the connection of events. Great men have always done so, and confided themselves childlike to the genius of their age, betraying their perception that the absolutely trustworthy was seated at their heart, working through their hands, predominating in all their being. And we are now men, and must accept in the highest mind the same transcendent destiny; and not minors and invalids in a protected corner, not cowards fleeing before a revolution, but guides, redeemors, and benefactors, obeying the Almighty effort and advancing on Chaos and the Dark.

So wise so young, they say, do never live long—

—Shakespeare

The underclassmen are a vital part of the student body. These men and women are preparing themselves for the future, as we seniors stand ready to meet the challenging unknown.

The lives of these students are a combination of intellectual endeavors and a sought-after leisure. They hope as we do that a blend of all that is Bridgewater will find them in the spot which the class of 1962 now occupies.

'Mongst all these stirs

of discontented strife,
O, let me lead an academic life;

THE JUNIOR CLASS

The class of "63" 's junior year at B.S.C. has been an eventful one. It was a period of preparation and testing to determine whether we were worthy of becoming seniors. But not all was work. We danced to the tunes of the school orchestra at the Bear's Ball. We took a whirl at junior training and then ended the year atop the Parker House, overlooking the metropolis of Boston. Now as we take another step up on the academic ladder our view is divided. We look to our senior year at Bridgewater, but also to the future and our teaching professions.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

The class of 1964, like all classes at Bridgewater State College, has been continually striving to reach goals far above the standards set by previous classes. These goals, in the realm of school and class spirit, have not yet been reached, and theoretically will never be reached, until there is complete cooperation between the class as a whole. Nevertheless, the class officers have been conducting all class functions such as the Sophomore week-end, its pizza party, and dance with these aims in mind, and sincerely hope to attain them in our future years at Bridgewater.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

We, of the Class of 1965, are proud and happy to accept Bridgewater as a major part of our lives, both present and future. We hope to effectively contribute to, and prove worthy of, a Bridgewater education. We respect, and shall continue to observe, the fine traditions of this college, even as we strive for its betterment. Our contributions have not been large this first year, but in the three more to follow, we will try to fulfill the growing obligations placed upon all of our members.

D-PE

These past four years at Bridgewater have not been lack-a-day. Hard work has filled a good portion of the time spent here, but when there have been chances for leisure, the students had a number of clubs and organizations in which to develop their special abilities and socialize.

Due to the interest of these men and women, the organizations on campus form a vital aspect of life at Bridgewater.

STUDENT COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

The Student Cooperative Association embodies the entire college. The governing council, consisting of elected student representatives from all classes, is headed by four major officers.

The council works to guide all student activity in maintaining the highest standards of thought and action. Its leaders endeavor to perform closely with student leaders all over New England to help broaden the outlook of the Bridgewater campus.

In 1955 the present Day Student Organization was formed and included all the women day students and all the men of the college. In 1961 when the first men's dormitory was completed the membership of the Day Student Organization included only the men and women commuting students at Bridgewater.

This organization was established for the purpose of regulating matters pertaining to the life of the day students at Bridgewater, and for the promotion of fellowship among its members.

DORMITORY COUNCIL

The Dormitory Council was organized for the purpose of providing harmonious and pleasant dormitory life. Members of the council include an executive board, and the officers and members of the house boards of all three women dormitories. With the co-operation of all the members it is possible to adapt dormitory life to the constantly changing social conditions.

The council is responsible for making and requiring observance of the rules governing the general conduct of the dormitory students.

Our life is like some vast lake that is slowly filling with the stream of our years. As the waters creep surely upward the landmarks of the past are one by one submerged. But there shall always be memory to lift its head above the tide until the lake is overflowing.

—Madame X

We the Alpha staff of 1962, have tried, within these pages, to compile a comprehensive list of the memories that have been ours at Bridgewater.

There are the serious moments and the lighter ones—all combining and alluding to the countless remembrances we will carry with us after graduation.

All of us hope that the coming years will make brighter the messages and photographs found within this book.

Chapbook is the literary magazine which offers to all Bridgewater students a vehicle for literary expression. The staff is responsible for the selection of material, editing, proof-reading, typing, organization, layout, and circulation.

Since its organization in 1959, interest in the group has steadily increased. It is the aim of the staff to firmly establish the literary magazine as an important cultural aspect of the campus and as a means for the discovery of promising writing talents.

CAMPUS COMMENT

The student newspaper, Campus Comment, started the celebration of its 35th year of publication by receiving a first place certificate from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

The student newspaper is the voice of both the faculty and the student body regarding national, local and college issues. The paper offers a complete coverage of all college functions and attempts to promote interest in the drama, the arts, and in music.

Through the efforts of its capable staff of this year and of years past the Campus Comment has grown to become an integral and necessary function of the college.

The Newman Club offers Catholic students an opportunity to study the principles of Cardinal Newman. Under the guidance of Chaplain Father John A. Wilcox and faculty advisor Dr. William J. Wall, the spiritual, educational and social needs of the students are met.

MENS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Men's Athletic Association is one of the largest organizations found on the campus at Bridgewater, and every member of the male student body is entitled to membership. The primary aim of the Men's Athletic Association is to further the spirit of cooperation among the men of the college toward the development of our school in separate fields of endeavor. Heading the list of Men's Athletic Association responsibilities is the organization, development, and execution of an athletic program, including varsity or intramural competition.

The Women's Recreation Association has the distinction of being the second largest organization which is found on the Bridgewater campus. Numerous activities and social events are sponsored annually by the women of the Women's Recreation Association, but the primary purpose of the latter is to provide each woman in the college with an opportunity for physical recreation. The association's governing board consists of an executive board as well as a body of student representatives who work to further the aims of the organization.

AQUABRYTES

Aquabrytes is a club of about thirty girls organized to further the development of synchronized swimming. Each year the efforts of the club are climaxed with the Spring Show in which the club members are given the opportunity to create and direct group swimming styles. It is our hope that sportsmanship and leadership, as well as exercise and enjoyment, are encouraged in the club.

P. E. M. CLUB

The P.E.M. club is a professional organization open to all physical education majors, which serves to promote an active interest in the field of health and physical education. Through its program and social events it helps its members become better teachers and leaders.

MODERN DANCE CLUB

The Modern Dance Club is an organization which strives for the perfection of dance techniques. The major part of its work is culminated by its annual spring performance. The club provides the opportunity for creativity and self-expression to all its members.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club is comprised of college women who have been chosen to be members as a result of try-out sessions. The efforts of the group and its director go toward the presentation of an annual Christmas Concert and Spring Concert.

MIXED CHORUS

The Mixed Chorus is made up of select voices of men and women from the student body. A concert is given annually by this group along with other musical groups at Christmas and in the late spring. The Providence College Glee Club has performed with the Bridgewater State College group for the past two Spring Concerts.

ORCHESTRA

The college orchestra, under the direction of Vincent H. Gannon, provides the music for many of the college social functions. In its off-campus engagements, the orchestra serves as an excellent public relations medium for the college.

ORGAN CLUB

Membership in the Organ Club is open to all students who enjoy organ music. Each year the club sponsors a concert by a student or guest organist. Students wishing to use the Clara Prince Memorial Organ may obtain privileges through the club.

DRAMATIC CLUB

There is opportunity in the Drama Club to develop the skills of acting, stage management and play production. Members of the Drama Club give guest performances for the alumni and entertain student bodies in other communities with special skits and excerpts from past shows. Field trips are taken to other college and university theaters and to the Shakespearian Festival Theatre.

JUNIOR TRAINING

The memory of the experience of Junior Training evokes mixed emotions. Is there a distaste for music lessons, bank day, bulletin boards, milk money, lesson plans, the "sanitary" . . . ? Is there fond remembrance of the first day your lesson really went over?

Training was a step forward for us toward graduation and more than that, too. It made us, perhaps, begin to know ourselves.

GRADUATION 1961

Graduation 1961, was an occasion to give feelings of joy and of fulfillment to the class of 1961, and to give reason for pause to the class of 1962. We said good-bye to many friends. We became aware of how quickly our own college days would be ended. We were forced to think beyond the immediate future.

Mardi Gras is the gala biennial Masquerade Ball sponsored by Bridgewater's Le Cercle Francais. The festivities include the coronation of Rex and his Queen, the parade of prize-winning floats, the presentation of costume awards, and the spectacular War of the Rases.

Welcome to Mt. Idy—

The whole man must grow physically. One of the primary purposes of the sports program is to aid this growth. Bridgewater's sports program provides a variety of activities for both men and women. Men's sports include football, basketball, tennis, and track. Women's sports, for the most part, W.R.A.-directed, include ping pong, volley ball, bowling, fist ball, field hockey, tennis, and softball. Sports are indeed a part of the college scene.

FOOTBALL

Football returned to Bridgewater after an absence of over twenty years. In this first successful season, the Bears defeated Brown University Freshman team, Nichols College, and Quonset Naval Base. The Bears were defeated by Newport Naval Base and by Maine Maritime in two closely contested games.

A marked improvement over the season of 1960 was noticable in the team's overall play. Special credit should be given to co-captains Thomas Salvo and Richard Kherlopian for the fine job which they did in leading the team. One of the outstanding players on both defensive and offensive was senior David Fee. Other players outstanding for the Bears that should be singled out are Paul Doherety, Robert Mason, Robert Layne, Richard Baldwin, James Tartari, Paul Callahan, Robert Peluso, and William Wassel.

It is hoped that eventually a league may be formed with the other state colleges in order that the Bears may enjoy the same rivalry in football that is enjoyed in basketball and baseball.

The Alpha of 1962 wishes the best of luck and success to the Bears for a rewarding future.

Make it count. Those practice sessions tell.

Captain Stewart

The Team—First Row—Left to right: G. LeClair; R. Houde; J. Stewart, Captain; J. Morrissey; R. Cross;
Second Row: Coach E. Swensan; R. Hotch; W. Grable;

F. Quinn; R. Marum; J. Scudder; Asst. Coach B. Gilmetti.

Tip it in, Fred

Lack of height hurt the Bears squad this season. Faced with this problem, Captain Stewart led a fine team effort, which provided the home crowds with many thrilling moments. What the Bears lacked in height they made up in fire and determination. Bab Marum, Ran Hatch, Bill Grable, and Fred Quinn provided the rebounding while the sharpshooting of Richard Houde and Jack Morrisy kept Bridgewater in every game.

Although there will be five graduating Seniors, the nucleus of a well-balanced squad has been built from the Junior Varsity. Look for excellent performances from Dana Bayntan and Jahn Scudder next season.

BASEBALL 1961

Under the leadership of co-captains John Hassard and Donald Delutis, the baseball team looks forward to a winning season. The Bears came back from Connecticut last season with the second place trophy in the N.A.I.A. tourney. The Bears ended the season with an 11-10-1 record, with two impressive victories over Stonehill.

The highlight of last year for the baseball team came during the spring vacation, when the team went to New York City. Coach Lehmon scheduled three baseball games against Danbury, Connecticut, Forleigh Dickenson University, and Long Island University.

The Bears lost three pitchers last year and this will hurt the team. Only three pitchers are returning this season: co-captain John Hassard, Ralph Ricci, and Stephen Almeida. Captain Hassard will, no doubt, be the mainstay of the pitching staff this spring. The spirit and drive of the team may still give us a winning season, in spite of the pitcher shortage.

TENNIS

ond Row: W. Grable; R. Marum; R. Macomber; G. Cross; C. Murch; W. Murphy.

TENNIS

Far the last time this spring, the students of Bridgewater will be able to watch the tennis prowess of such players as Douglas Wicher, Robert Richards, and Robert Cross, this year's captain. These graduating seniors will be backed this season by freshmen who appear to very well equipped in the skills of this sport. The highlight of this year's matches will be the N.A.I.A. tourney to be held here at the college. Competing will be Central Conn., Southern Conn., Quinnipiac, Boston State, Landon Teachers (Vt.), Gorham (Me.), Stonehill, Durfee, and New Bedford Tech.

SPRING TRACK

Captain Tom Bleakney promises that this year's track team will be the finest that Bridgewater has ever had. Only three seniors will leave the squad this year—Gerald Gorman, Robert Marum, and Captain Bleakney. Thus the track team will remain relatively intact. The team will compete in the Southern New England Conference Meet which will include many college teams from this area. The N.A.I.A. Meet at Bridgewater will be another high point on the track team's schedule. The last home meet will be a Quadrangular Meet in which only R.I.C., Barrington College, Durfee Tech, and B.S.C. will participate. The final meet of the season will be at Fitchburg for the N.E.T.C.A. Conference.

TRACK

ond Row: W. Bell; J. Stuart; J. Olson; A. Curry; T. Lamminen; W. Murphy. Absent: T. Bleakney, Captain.

CHEERLEADERS

It must be o tense moment

The spirit and the smile. Perhaps these two words best describe the role the cheerleader plays in college sports. Our cheerleaders are no exceptions. Rather, they typify their role, urging the Bears on during both the football and basketball seasons.
